

SCIENCE

Blue Origin Delays New Glenn Launch for NASA Mars Probes, Seeks FAA Exemption Amid Weather and Regulatory Challenges

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Blue Origin's ambitious second launch of its New Glenn rocket, intended to deploy NASA's ESCAPADE (Escape…

Read More..

Executive Summary

Manufactured History: How Biblical Archaeology Was Weaponized for Zionist Expansion examines the deliberate manipulation of archaeology to serve ideological and geopolitical ends. This work exposes how biblical archaeology has been politicized, with evidence selectively presented or fabricated to validate Zionist territorial claims and reinforce the notion of an unbroken Jewish lineage in Palestine.

The book scrutinizes key archaeological discoveries, such as the Tel Dan Stele, Masada, the Wailing Wall, and the City of David excavations, demonstrating how these findings have been misrepresented to support nationalist narratives. It highlights the suppression of contradictory evidence, the erasure of Palestinian and Canaanite histories, and the role of Western evangelical movements in propagating these myths.

Through a critical analysis of fraudulent discoveries, politicized excavation practices, and academic suppression, this book argues that biblical archaeology is not a neutral science but a tool for justifying territorial expansion, military occupation, and ethnic cleansing. The investigation also reveals how Christian Zionism, fueled by the Scofield Bible and televangelist propaganda, has turned American religious communities into unwavering supporters of Israel, despite the historical fabrications involved.

Ultimately, Manufactured History calls for a rigorous reassessment of Near Eastern archaeology, the restoration of suppressed histories, and the rejection of archaeology as a political weapon. It challenges readers to differentiate between fact and propaganda, ensuring that history serves truth rather than colonial conquest.

Table of Contents

Introduction: The Politics of Biblical Archaeology

- How Archaeology Became a Tool of Political Ideology
- The Role of Zionist Funding in Historical Research

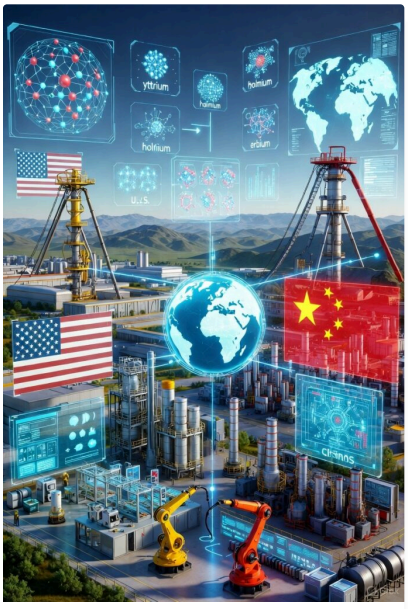
INVESTIGATIONS

BBC Director General Tim Davie Steps Down Amidst Escalating Controversy Over Misleading Trump Documentary Edit

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

LONDON — In a seismic shift at the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), Director General Tim Davie has resigned following a…

Read More..



ECONOMICS

China Temporarily Lifts Export Ban on Some Rare Earth Metals, Easing Tensions with U.S. Supply Chains

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

In a significant development that could alleviate concerns over global supply

- Questionable Provenance and Translation Issues
- The Political Timing of Its Discovery

Chapter 2: The Wailing Wall—A Roman Relic, Not a Temple Remnant

- The Roman Origins of the Structure
- Absence from Early Jewish Religious Texts
- How the Wailing Wall Became a Nationalist Symbol

Chapter 3: Masada—The Zionist Cult of Suicide and Manufactured Martyrdom

- The Josephus Problem: A Roman Propagandist
- Lack of Archaeological Evidence for Mass Suicide
- Masada as a Tool of Military Indoctrination

Chapter 4: The City of David Excavations—Archaeology as Land Theft

- The Elad Settler Group and State-Sponsored Fraud
- Silwan's Palestinian Residents as Targets of Ethnic Cleansing
- Rewriting History to Serve Modern Colonial Ambitions

Chapter 5: The Biblical Exodus—A Myth with No Evidence

- The Lack of Egyptian Records
- The Invention of the 40-Year Wandering Narrative
- How the Exodus Myth Serves Zionist Expansionism

Chapter 6: The Walls of Jericho—A Conquest That Never Happened

- The Archaeological Disproof of the Joshua Narrative
- Rewriting History to Justify Modern Military Aggression
- The Erasure of Canaanite History

Chapter 7: Solomon's Temple—A Grand Myth, Not a Grand Structure

- No Archaeological Evidence of a Temple in Jerusalem
- The Political Function of the "Third Temple" Narrative

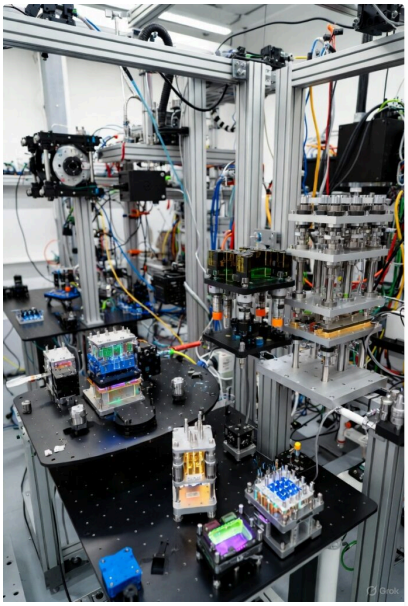
FEATURED X-FILES

The Age of Disclosure" Documentary Set to Unveil Groundbreaking Revelations on November 21, 2025

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 1

In a highly anticipated release, the documentary "The Age of Disclosure" is poised to make waves with its explosive revelations…

Read More..



FEATURED SCIENCE

Breakthrough in Photonic Computing: NYU's Gyromorphs Pave the Way for Light-Speed Technology

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

NEW YORK — In a landmark development that could reshape the future of technology, researchers at New York University's Martiniani…

Read More..

- The Lack of Contemporary Mentions of Biblical Prophets
- The Role of Prophetic Writings in Political and Religious Indoctrination
- Repackaging Mythology as "Divine History"

Chapter 9: The Forgotten Histories—What's Being Suppressed?

- The Canaanites: The True Builders of Jerusalem
- The Philistines: A Civilized People Turned into Biblical Villains
- Pre-Islamic Arab Civilizations and Their Erasure from Zionist Narratives

Chapter 10: Christian Zionism—The Role of Televangelists in Selling Fake History

- The Business of Biblical Lies
- How Backwoods Preachers and Televangelists Profit from False Archaeology
- The Role of the Israeli Government in Evangelical Manipulation

Chapter 11: The Scofield Bible—How Zionists Engineered Christian Zionism for Political Control

- Cyrus Scofield's Criminal Background and Zionist Financing
- The Rothschild Connection and the Oxford University Press
- How American Christianity Was Reprogrammed to Serve Israel

Chapter 12: Biblical Archaeology as a Zionist Money Laundering Scheme

- How Fraudulent Discoveries Are Used to Funnel Evangelical Donations to Israel
- The Role of Christian Zionist Organizations in U.S. Foreign Policy
- Zionist Control Over American Politics Through Religious Manipulation

Chapter 13: The Impact of Manufactured History on Palestine

- How Biblical Myths Justify Military Occupation and Ethnic Cleansing

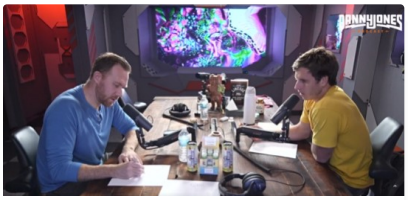
FEATURED HEALTH & MEDICAL

China's Pioneering Leap Toward a 150-Year Human Lifespan with Grape Seed Innovation

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

SHENZHEN, China — In a bold stride toward redefining human longevity, Chinese scientists are spearheading groundbreaking research that could potentially…

Read More..



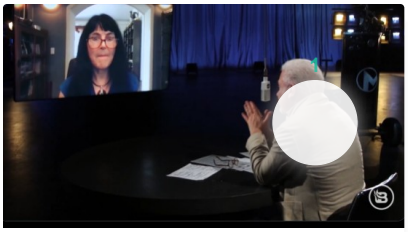
FEATURED X-FILES

Nelson Dellis Demonstrates Remote Viewing on Danny Jones Podcast

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 1

In a captivating episode of the Danny Jones Podcast, renowned memory athlete and remote viewing expert Nelson Dellis showcased the…

Read More..



Chapter 14: Reclaiming History from Zionist Fabrications

- The Need for Independent, Non-Political Archaeology
- Holding Scholars and Institutions Accountable for Historical Manipulation
- Restoring Palestinian, Canaanite, and Arab Histories to the Historical Record

Conclusion: Breaking Free from Manufactured History

- Exposing the Zionist Control Over Historical Narratives
- Restoring Historical Integrity in Near Eastern Archaeology
- The Future of Truth-Seeking in a Politicized Academic Landscape

Bibliography

- Comprehensive List of Sources Exposing Biblical Archaeology's Falsehoods

Hennacy, trained at Johns Hopkins, revealed astonishing findings about…

Read More..

ALTERNATIVE

Why Living In The UK Is Now ABSURD

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/Xwlcl_T96QU?si=5Q1usmIEEjmiHIfA Why has daily life in the UK become so difficult—and expensive? This video dives into the rising cost of…

Read More..

ALTERNATIVE FEATURED

Florida RV Homelessness Crisis 2025: Walking Through America's Forgotten Hell – Documentary

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/rkErcmGh0ag?si=RiYRGmIf6PAm_sEZ Florida RV Homelessness Crisis 2025: Walking Through America's Forgotten Hell – Documentary Tonight in Florida, thousands of R-vee sit…

Read More..

geopolitical interests. While historical narratives should be shaped by evidence, biblical archaeology has often reversed this process, with evidence cherry-picked or fabricated to align with the desired narrative of a continuous Jewish presence in Palestine.

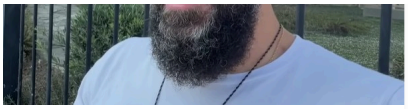
This has served multiple agendas: validating Zionist territorial claims, justifying the displacement of Palestinians, and reinforcing the belief that modern Israelis are the direct descendants of biblical Israelites. Key archaeological findings that contradict this narrative have been ignored or actively suppressed, while selective evidence has been elevated as incontrovertible proof of biblical legitimacy.

The role of archaeology in the Near East has long extended beyond academia; it has been a battleground where political ideology, nationalism, and religious fundamentalism intersect. Instead of functioning as a neutral scientific endeavor, it has been weaponized as a tool of statecraft, helping to manufacture legitimacy for territorial expansion.

Major funding sources for biblical archaeology have historically aligned with institutions that have vested interests in reinforcing Jewish historical continuity in Palestine. From early 19th-century European Christian Zionist expeditions to modern Israeli state-sponsored excavations, archaeological projects have often prioritized discoveries that fit preconceived narratives over those that challenge them.

At the same time, Palestinian, Canaanite, Philistine, and pre-Islamic Arab histories have been actively erased or diminished in significance, reinforcing the idea that non-Jewish civilizations in the region were transient or secondary. These narratives serve to bolster a singular historical claim that conveniently justifies contemporary political objectives.

By exploring the manipulation of archaeological evidence, the suppression of contradictory discoveries, and the broader political agendas behind



INTERVIEWS & SHOWS

Lavrov returns. Sweden and Estonia plan to isolate Russia. Kiev indefinite blackout. Jolani Hoops

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/Y1CzBwzFIvc?si=tKFIo2WLGY47UOuI

Read More..

INTERVIEWS & SHOWS

Russian Strike Shuts Down Ukraine; Kiev Cities Go Dark; Zelensky Army Chiefs Publicly Row; Pokrovsk

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/a9zvsdmk_xg?si=bndt5sxJhy0ieYFx

Read More..

CURRENT WARS

Defense on the Zaporizhzhia Front is Crumbling in Real Time

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/KZGet92eqEY?si=37OOXieCPba5_cJQ

Read More..

The Tel Dan Stele: A Misinterpreted Artifact?

The Tel Dan Stele, discovered in 1993 by Israeli archaeologist Avraham Biran, has been widely cited as the strongest extra-biblical evidence for the existence of a historical King David. This fragmentary Aramaic inscription supposedly references the "House of David" (BYTDWD), marking what some scholars claim to be definitive proof of a Davidic dynasty.

However, the artifact's provenance, translation, and historical significance remain deeply contested. Rather than being an unequivocal confirmation of biblical accounts, the Tel Dan Stele reflects the methodological weaknesses of biblical archaeology and its role in reinforcing ideological narratives. Its rapid and enthusiastic acceptance highlights how the field often prioritizes evidence that aligns with predetermined national and political narratives over rigorous historical scrutiny.

Problems with the Tel Dan Stele's Reliability

CURRENT WARS FEATURED

Erased in Seconds: Russia's Iskander-M Destroys Ukraine's Drone Regiment with Surgical Precision

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/4egDw5RINJM?si=kMi2x1WZyBxU9FXA On October 7, a Russian Iskander-M ballistic missile obliterated the 411th Separate Unmanned Systems Regiment of Ukraine near Varvarovka,…

Read More..

CURRENT WARS

'Complete Surrender': Ukraine's Special Force Unit Lays Down Arms Near Krasnoarmeysk | Watch

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/3enE18lROBE?si=4838BKJiYWGxKceB In a dramatic battlefield twist, Ukrainian troops have reportedly waved the white flag near Krasnoarmeysk and Dimitrov, signalling a…

Read More..

INTERVIEWS & SHOWS

China's C929 Mega Jet Completes 12,000-Kilometer Flight – West Stunned by Breakthrough!

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

https://youtu.be/y4t_-PsgLlw?si=kaeyHdNhxcN0En-Z China's C929

The stele was not discovered in situ (its original context) but was instead repurposed as building material in a later structure. This compromises its dating and raises questions about its original meaning and usage.

Archaeologists typically prioritize artifacts found in undisturbed contexts, as this ensures their chronological reliability. The Tel Dan Stele, however, lacks such context, making it difficult to definitively link to any particular time period or ruling dynasty.

2. No Corroborating Inscriptions Exist

A core principle of historical verification is independent, contemporary corroboration. If David had indeed ruled a powerful kingdom as described in the Bible, one would expect multiple inscriptions from neighboring civilizations to reference him. However, apart from the disputed Tel Dan Stele, no known inscription from Egypt, Assyria, Babylon, or any surrounding state mentions a Davidic monarchy.

Notably, Egyptian and Mesopotamian records from the 10th century BCE provide detailed accounts of rulers, conflicts, and political entities in the Levant, yet David is entirely absent from these records. This absence is striking given the extensive diplomatic and military interactions between Near Eastern kingdoms.

3. The Translation of "House of David" is Disputed

The key phrase in the inscription, "BYTDWD", is at the heart of scholarly debate. The standard interpretation assumes it means "House of David," but this relies on retroactive biblical interpretation rather than linguistic certainty.

Alternative readings include:

- Some scholars argue that BYTDWD may refer to a toponym (a place name) rather than a dynastic title.
- Others suggest that the letters DWD could reference another figure or entity entirely, since "David" (DWD) was not a unique name in the proof of David's existence. He and others have proposed that if a Davidic entity did exist, it may have been a small local chieftaincy rather than a grand united monarchy as described in biblical texts.

4. The Stele's Discovery Coincided with Political Necessities

The timing of the Tel Dan Stele's discovery in the 1990s coincided with a period of heightened Israeli nationalist sentiment and a renewed push for archaeological validation of biblical claims. Given that archaeology in Israel is heavily state-funded and intertwined with Zionist political objectives, there is an inherent confirmation bias in how discoveries are presented to the public.

This raises an essential question: If the Tel Dan Stele had contradicted biblical claims, would it have received the same enthusiastic acceptance? History suggests otherwise, as numerous inconvenient findings—such as evidence of pre-Israelite Canaanite urban centers—have been minimized or ignored in Israeli archaeology.

Scholarly Suppression and the Politics of Archaeology

The broader issue surrounding the Tel Dan Stele is the uncritical acceptance of biblical archaeology within academic and political circles. The field has developed an intellectual orthodoxy that discourages dissent, creating a hostile environment for scholars who challenge mainstream interpretations.

- Researchers who question the historicity of biblical figures—including David, Solomon, and Moses—are often denied funding, excluded from major publications, and marginalized in academic discourse.
- The suppression of alternative interpretations has led to a field where artifacts are frequently interpreted through a biblical lens first rather than through objective archaeological methods.

This is not how rigorous historical inquiry operates—it is how politicized scholarship manufactures legitimacy.

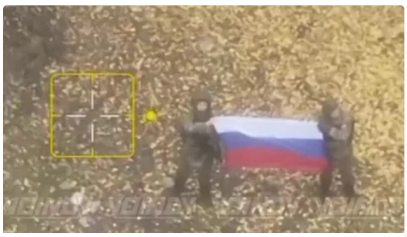
GLOBAL AFFAIRS

Hegseth Dropped Big Venezuela Easter Egg in Quantico Speech

TID November 9, 2025 0

Though many wrote it off as a political stunt, the gathering offered the clearest articulation yet of how the Trump administration thinks about and hopes to use military power.

Read More..



CURRENT WARS

Operational Success Of Russian Forces In The Zaporizhzhia Direction: Control Over Rybnoe Opens The Way To Rovnopolie

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Support SouthFront Click to see the full-size image On the Zaporizhzhia and South-Dnepropetrovsk directions, Russian forces continued offensive operations, achieving…

Read More..

size image Russia and Ukraine continued exchanging strikes on the night of November 8-9.…

Read More..

CURRENT WARS

Military Situation In Ukraine On November 9, 2025 (Maps Update)

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Support SouthFront Click to see the full-size image Russian strikes destroyed targets in Kyiv, Dnipropetrovsk, Sumy, Zaporizhzhia, Chernihiv, Kharkiv, Odesa,…

Read More..

FEATURED INVESTIGATIONS

Drugs & Drones: The Cartelization Of The Ukrainian Front

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Support SouthFront Click to see the full-size image Since the intensification of hostilities across eastern Ukraine, a disturbing transformation has

Read More..

Zionist territorial claims and suppressing alternative histories—particularly Palestinian, Canaanite, and Philistine narratives.

This case highlights the larger issue of how archaeological "discoveries" are used to justify modern territorial expansion and political agendas. Artifacts that align with biblical narratives receive disproportionate attention and validation, while those that challenge these narratives are ignored or downplayed.

Would an inscription referencing a Philistine king or Canaanite ruler receive the same unquestioned acceptance? The historical record suggests otherwise.

A Need for Genuine Inquiry

The Tel Dan Stele is not definitive proof of a historical Davidic kingdom—it is an artifact that requires greater scrutiny and alternative interpretations.

If archaeology is to function as a true scientific discipline, it must:

- Acknowledge uncertainties in translation and interpretation.
- Recognize the role of political bias in how discoveries are presented.
- Give equal weight to evidence contradicting biblical claims.

The history of the ancient Near East is far more complex than biblical narratives allow. To move beyond political pseudoscience, we must demand a return to evidence-based inquiry—free from ideological coercion.

ENVIRONMENT FEATURED

England faces worst drought in decades: Report

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Government, water firms preparing emergency plans as forecasts show another dry winter and critically low reservoir levels, The Guardian reports…

Read More..

NUCLEAR/BIOLOGICAL/CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Kremlin says Russia committed to banning nuclear weapons testing

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

'But, if another country does this, then we will be obliged to do so in order to maintain parity,' says…

Read More..

WAR CRIMES WHAT'S HOT!

Ireland joins calls to ban Israel from European football

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

The Irish Football Association says Israel broke Uefa rules by allowing 'settlement clubs' in the occupied West Bank. A demonstrator…

Read More..

The Wailing Wall: A Roman Relic, Not a Temple Remnant

One of the most deeply ingrained myths in biblical archaeology is the belief that the Wailing Wall (HaKotel HaMa'aravi), located in Jerusalem's Old City, is a surviving remnant of either Solomon's First Temple or Herod's Second Temple. This claim has been repeated so often that it is treated as an unquestionable fact. Yet, historical, archaeological, and textual evidence completely contradicts this narrative—undermining the very foundation of Zionist claims to exclusive Jewish ownership of the site.

The Origins of the Wailing Wall: A Roman Fort, Not a Jewish Temple

Contrary to popular belief, the so-called Wailing Wall is not a remnant of the Second Temple but almost certainly a part of the Roman fortress Antonia, built to house the occupying Roman X Legion that controlled Jerusalem.

1. The Wailing Wall Does Not Align with the Temple's Location

The biblical descriptions of Solomon's Temple and later Herod's expansion of the Second Temple place it in a completely different location:

WAR CRIMES

Dick Cheney may be gone, but the wars he waged are forever

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Mohamad Elmasry 8 November 2025 12:00 GMT | Last update: 1 day 6 hours ago Despite official attempts to whitewash his crimes, the former…

Read More..

FEATURED INTEL

French Le Monde acknowledges Russia's military superiority over EU/NATO

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 0

Interestingly, although they kept regurgitating the usual Western propaganda narratives about Russia, at the very end, European experts acknowledged that…

Read More..

ENVIRONMENT FEATURED

'Earth's Greatest Enemy' Shows Us We Have No Choice

INTEL-DROP November 9, 2025 1

A new documentary details how the US military is destroying all forms of life—from oceans, plants, and animals to the…

Read More..

the idea that the real site of the Hebrew temple is elsewhere.

- The modern "Temple Mount" structure is entirely absent from early Hebrew religious texts—no definitive Hebrew source identifies the Wailing Wall as a remnant of the Temple before modern times.

2. The Wailing Wall's Structure Resembles Roman Fortresses, Not Jewish Temples

- Massive Herodian-style stone blocks used in the wall are not unique to Hebrew architecture; they match Roman military construction techniques used in other Roman garrisons across the empire.
- The layout of the structure more closely aligns with Roman fortresses, particularly the Antonia Fortress, which was constructed by Herod himself to serve the Roman military.
- Other Roman-built retaining walls and structures from this period in Jerusalem share the same design, yet only the Wailing Wall has been arbitrarily claimed as a Temple remnant.

3. Early Hebrew Religious Texts Never Mention the Wailing Wall as a Holy Site

- The Talmud (compiled after the destruction of the Second Temple in 70 CE) never references the Wailing Wall as a place of Hebrew worship.
- Instead, Hebrew texts lament the loss of the Temple in its entirety, with no acknowledgment of a surviving portion.
- If the Wailing Wall had been a sacred relic of the Temple, early Hebrew historians, religious leaders, and even pilgrims would have mentioned it—yet there is complete silence until modern times.

The Invention of the Wailing Wall Myth

If the Wailing Wall is not part of the Hebrew Temple, how did it become the most sacred Hebrew site? The answer lies in political necessity, colonial manipulation, and Zionist myth-making—not history.

1. The Wailing Wall Was a Minor Prayer Site Under Islamic Rule

Wall, linked to the Prophet Muhammad's Night Journey in Islamic tradition.

- Hebrew communities were not restricted from praying near the wall but never regarded it as the "holiest site" in Judaism until much later.

2. British Colonialism and the Reinvention of the Kotel

- During the British Mandate period (1917–1948), Zionist leaders aggressively rewrote history to manufacture a Jewish claim over Jerusalem.
- Jewish nationalist movements, funded by European Zionists, rebranded the Wailing Wall as the last remnant of the Temple, despite the complete lack of evidence.
- British officials encouraged and legitimized Zionist historical distortions to facilitate Jewish settlement in Palestine, setting the stage for Israel's later occupation of Jerusalem.

3. The Destruction of the Moroccan Quarter in 1967

- When Israel seized East Jerusalem in 1967, the first action taken by Israeli authorities was the complete demolition of the Moroccan Quarter, a centuries-old Palestinian neighborhood.
- Over 135 homes were bulldozed overnight, displacing Palestinian families to create the large, open plaza in front of the Wailing Wall that exists today.
- This act of ethnic cleansing ensured that the Wailing Wall would be transformed into a political-nationalist symbol, rather than a contested historical site.

The Political Weaponization of the Wailing Wall

By rebranding the Wailing Wall as the holiest site in Judaism, Zionists created a powerful nationalist symbol that serves multiple strategic functions:

1. Justifying the Occupation of Jerusalem

2. Erasing Palestinian and Islamic Heritage

- The destruction of the Moroccan Quarter and the rebranding of Islamic religious sites as Jewish holy places serve to erase centuries of Palestinian history.
- The Al-Aqsa Mosque and the Dome of the Rock are continuously threatened by Zionist groups seeking to replace them with a "Third Temple" based on these manufactured myths.

3. Militarizing Religious Identity

- The Israeli military uses the Wailing Wall for nationalistic ceremonies, reinforcing the idea that Israel is in a perpetual religious war against Muslims and Palestinians.
- IDF soldiers take oaths at the Wailing Wall, transforming a historically insignificant site into a militarized symbol of Jewish dominance.

The Reality: The Wailing Wall Is a Roman Structure, Not a Temple Remnant

The Wailing Wall is not the last remnant of the Hebrew Temple—it is the last remnant of Roman occupation.

- It was built by the Romans, for the Romans—not by Hebrew temple builders.
- It was never regarded as a significant Hebrew religious site until the 20th century.
- Its mythical status was deliberately manufactured to support modern Zionist territorial claims.

The fact that millions of people still believe in this historical fraud is a testament to the power of propaganda—not the truth of history.

Destroying the Wailing Wall Myth and Reclaiming Historical Integrity

To expose the truth, we must:

1. Acknowledge the Roman origins of the Wailing Wall and reject its false connection to the Hebrew Temple.
2. Restore suppressed Palestinian, Islamic, and pre-Zionist histories that have been erased to fit the Israeli nationalist agenda.
3. Challenge the weaponization of archaeology, ensuring that history is not rewritten to serve colonial expansion.

History is not a tool of occupation—unless we allow it to be. Until biblical archaeology is freed from ideological control, it will remain an instrument of imperialism, historical distortion, and political fraud.

Masada: The Zionist Cult of Suicide, Myth-Making, and Manufactured Martyrdom propagandist, distorted by modern Zionists, and used to justify militarism, paranoia, and endless aggression against Palestinians and the region at large.

The myth? In 73 CE, nearly a thousand Jewish zealots, known as the Sicarii, held out against the mighty Roman Empire at the fortress of Masada. When the Romans breached the defenses, these warriors supposedly chose mass suicide over surrender, depriving the enemy of a victory.

The reality? There is no credible evidence this happened. It is a story that:

- Relies solely on the writings of Flavius Josephus, a self-serving turncoat writing for a Roman audience that enjoyed tragic Jewish tales.
- Lacks any archaeological proof of mass suicide—no mass graves, no evidence of organized self-destruction, and no corroborating Roman accounts.
- Has been hijacked as a foundational myth of Zionist nationalism, where Israeli soldiers swear allegiance to the state in its shadow.

What Masada truly represents is not heroism, but the deliberate rewriting of history to create a culture of perpetual war and siege mentality.

The Josephus Problem: A Liar, A Traitor, and A Propagandist

The entire Masada story comes from one single, highly unreliable source: Flavius Josephus, a man whose historical credibility should be treated with the same skepticism as a political press release.

Josephus was:

- A former Hebrew military commander who defected to the Romans.
- A servant of the Flavian dynasty (Emperors Vespasian and Titus), whose job was to “explain” Hebrew history in a way that suited Roman imperial interests.

Why the Story Is Nonsense

Josephus claims that:

1. The Sicarii zealots at Masada, led by Eleazar ben Yair, resisted a Roman siege for months.
2. When defeat was inevitable, Eleazar gave a speech urging his people to kill their families and then themselves.
3. The men systematically murdered their own wives and children, then drew lots to kill each other, with the final man falling on his sword.
4. Only two women and five children survived, hiding in a cistern, and they later told the Romans what had happened.

This is where the story collapses under its own weight.

- Romans recorded everything—but never mentioned this event.
  - The Roman Empire meticulously documented its victories. If a mass suicide of this scale had occurred, it would have been carved into stone monuments and written about in Roman military reports. Yet, no Roman source confirms the Masada story.
  - Even Tacitus and Suetonius—who wrote about Jewish uprisings—never mention Masada.
- Where are the bodies?
  - Over 960 people supposedly killed themselves, yet no mass grave has ever been found.
  - The bodies that have been discovered suggest combat deaths, not mass suicide.
  - If entire families were ritually killed, where are the remains of the children and women?
- Human psychology makes mass suicide on this scale highly implausible.
  - The idea that nearly a thousand people would calmly and systematically kill their own children and loved ones, then neatly arrange their own execution, is absurd.
  - Even in historical instances of mass suicides (e.g., Jonestown), there was immense resistance, coercion, and people trying to escape.

The Masada Myth as Zionist Nationalist Propaganda

If Masada is a fraudulent story, why does Israel cling to it so desperately? Because it serves as a powerful psychological weapon—indoctrinating its citizens into a permanent state of paranoia, war, and refusal to negotiate.

1. The IDF's Cult Ritual at Masada: Military Indoctrination Through Fiction

For decades, Israeli soldiers swore their oaths of allegiance at Masada, chanting:

"Masada shall not fall again."

This is not history. This is not archaeology. This is a brainwashing ritual designed to:

- Instill the belief that Israel is constantly besieged, just like the zealots at Masada.
- Create a culture where death is preferable to compromise.
- Justify preemptive violence, occupation, and war crimes.

Masada functions as an ideological "Never Again" myth, forcing Israelis to view themselves as permanent victims, even as they hold military superiority over Palestinians and their neighbors.

2. How Masada Is Used to Justify Modern War Crimes

The Masada complex (victimhood, heroic struggle, and refusal to surrender) directly feeds into Zionist justifications for:

- Ethnic cleansing: "We are a small nation fighting to survive, so we must remove threats."
- Massacres of Palestinians: "If we don't fight to the death, we will be destroyed like at Masada."
- Opposition to peace negotiations: "Surrender means extermination."

This is not history; it is psychological conditioning, where a Roman military slaughter is repackaged as Jewish bravery—and then used to fear, militarism, and endless war.

- The only source for the tale, Josephus, was a liar writing propaganda for Rome.
- No archaeological evidence supports mass suicide.
- The story has been turned into an Israeli state religion, brainwashing generations into embracing war, paranoia, and rejection of diplomacy.

It is time to demolish this myth and expose it for what it truly is:

A deliberately falsified history, used to justify the horrors of modern Israeli militarism.

History should inform us, not be hijacked to perpetuate cycles of war and apartheid. Masada is a lie—one that must finally be buried.

The City of David Excavations: A Fraudulent Pretext for Land Theft and Ethnic Cleansing archaeological project in Silwan, East Jerusalem, where entire Palestinian neighborhoods are razed to the ground in the name of "biblical history."

But this is not history. This is conquest.

What Israel calls "excavation" is actually land seizure, ethnic cleansing, and cultural erasure. While Palestinian families are violently evicted and their homes bulldozed, Israeli settlers and government-backed extremists continue to dig for a past that never existed. Their goal? To manufacture evidence of a biblical kingdom that never ruled Jerusalem and use that fabrication as a legal and moral excuse for permanent occupation.

This is not archaeology. This is the destruction of an entire people's heritage to validate a colonial fantasy.

"Biblical Archaeology" as a Smokescreen for Zionist Expansion

Israeli authorities claim that underneath Palestinian homes in Silwan lie the ruins of King David's palace and the foundations of an ancient Jewish kingdom. They market these claims as indisputable facts, despite having no archaeological proof.

The Facts They Refuse to Acknowledge:

- There is zero physical evidence that King David ever ruled from Jerusalem. Even Israeli archaeologists such as Israel Finkelstein admit that no substantial ruins exist to prove a centralized monarchy.
- Silwan is layered with Canaanite, Roman, Byzantine, and Islamic history, but these findings are ignored or downplayed in favor of the biblical narrative.
- The so-called "City of David" was not called that in ancient times. The name itself is a Zionist invention, a marketing strategy to impose a biblical framework on a city that has been home to multiple civilizations over thousands of years.

Israeli excavators, under direct sponsorship from government ministries and private settler groups, dig through Palestinian history like grave history itself.

Settler-Backed "Archaeology" as a Tool for Ethnic Cleansing

The City of David excavation is not run by independent archaeologists—it is controlled by armed settlers, right-wing ideologues, and government agencies. Leading this project is Elad, a radical settler organization that exists for one reason only: to replace Palestinians with Jewish settlers.

How Zionists Use "Archaeology" to Steal Land:

- Palestinian homes in Silwan are declared "archaeological zones"—and then demolished. Families who have lived in these neighborhoods for generations wake up to find their homes under imminent demolition orders.
- Palestinians who resist are arrested, attacked, or killed. Anyone daring to challenge the excavations, question the fraudulent findings, or protest the evictions is labeled a "terrorist" and dealt with accordingly.
- Israeli settlers move in immediately after demolitions, claiming the land as "Jewish heritage." These settlers, often armed and backed by the Israeli military, terrorize the remaining Palestinian population until they flee.

This process is not an accident—it is a systematic, premeditated campaign to erase Palestinian existence under the cover of "biblical discovery." And the world does nothing.

The Zionist War on History: How Fake Archaeology Manufactures Legitimacy

The City of David scam is just one piece of a larger Zionist project to redefine history itself. Any evidence that supports Jewish claims is exaggerated, manipulated, or outright fabricated, while findings that contradict the narrative are buried—sometimes literally.

Other Fraudulent Biblical "Discoveries" Used to Justify Zionist Colonialism:

1. The Exodus Myth: The Great Biblical Migration That Never Happened

- Millions of Israelites supposedly wandered the desert for 40 years, yet not a single artifact has ever been found. No campsites, no graves, no pottery—nothing.
- The story was designed long after the fact, as a political and theological tool to justify conquest, not document history.

2. The Walls of Jericho: A War Story Invented to Rationalize Mass Murder

- The biblical story claims Joshua's army brought down the walls of Jericho with trumpets.
- Archaeology proves that the city's walls collapsed centuries before Joshua's supposed conquest.
- The entire "Joshua's conquest" narrative is a mythological justification for genocide.

3. Solomon's Temple: A Fictional Empire with No Evidence

4. Rachel's Tomb and the Cave of the Patriarchs: Islamic Land Rebranded as "Jewish Heritage"

- These sites, originally Islamic and historically multi-religious, were expropriated by Israel and turned into "Jewish holy places" to expand settlements.

Every one of these fabricated stories is used as a justification for the theft of Palestinian land.

The Real-World Consequences of Biblical Lies

This is not just academic fraud—it is a weaponized historical narrative that destroys lives.

1. Justifying the Ongoing Ethnic Cleansing of Palestinians

- By portraying the land as "Jewish from the beginning," Israel frames all Palestinian resistance as illegitimate.
- Palestinian neighborhoods are wiped out to make room for "historical parks" celebrating a fabricated Jewish past.

2. Censorship and Academic Suppression

- Western universities, funded by Zionist interests, actively suppress research that challenges biblical archaeology.
- Any scholar who questions these fabrications risks losing funding, tenure, and professional standing.

3. Global Zionist Control Over Historical Narratives

- Israeli-backed organizations influence UNESCO, historical societies, and international museums to promote Zionist interpretations of history.
- Hollywood and mainstream media amplify these fabrications, turning them into unquestioned "facts."

This is not an accident. This is a war on truth itself.

The Zionist Fabrication of a Biblical Past

Israeli authorities claim that underneath Palestinian homes in Silwan lie the ruins of King David's palace and the foundations of an ancient Jewish kingdom. They market these claims as indisputable facts, despite having no archaeological proof.

The Facts They Refuse to Acknowledge:

- There is zero physical evidence that King David or King Solomon ever existed. No inscriptions, no artifacts, no contemporary records—not a shred of direct proof. These figures exist only in biblical mythology, not in history.
- Silwan contains multiple historical layers—Canaanite, Roman, Byzantine, and Islamic—but these are ignored or dismissed in favor of biblical fiction.
- The so-called "City of David" never existed as an identifiable historical place in ancient times—the name itself is a modern Zionist invention, designed to impose a biblical framework onto an area with no verifiable Jewish royal history.

This is not an academic endeavor—it is a state-sponsored assault on history itself.

Settler-Backed "Archaeology" as a Tool for Ethnic Cleansing

The City of David excavation is not run by independent archaeologists—it is controlled by armed settlers, right-wing ideologues, and government agencies. Leading this project is Elad, a radical settler organization that exists for one reason only: to replace Palestinians with Jewish settlers.

How Zionists Use "Archaeology" to Steal Land:

- Palestinian homes in Silwan are declared "archaeological zones"—and then demolished. Families who have lived in these neighborhoods for generations wake up to find their homes under imminent demolition orders.
- Palestinians who resist are arrested, attacked, or killed. Anyone daring to challenge the excavations, question the fraudulent findings, or protest the evictions is labeled a "terrorist" and dealt with accordingly.
- Israeli settlers move in immediately after demolitions, claiming the land as "Jewish heritage." These settlers, often armed and backed by the Israeli military, terrorize the remaining Palestinian population until they flee.

This process is not an accident—it is a systematic, premeditated campaign to erase Palestinian existence under the cover of "biblical discovery."

The Zionist War on History: How Fake Archaeology Manufactures Legitimacy

The City of David scam is just one piece of a larger Zionist project to redefine history itself. Any evidence that supports Jewish claims is exaggerated, manipulated, or outright fabricated, while findings that contradict the narrative are buried—sometimes literally.

The Real-World Consequences of Biblical Lies

- By portraying the land as “Jewish from the beginning,” Israel frames all Palestinian resistance as illegitimate.
- Palestinian neighborhoods are wiped out to make room for “historical parks” celebrating a fabricated Jewish past.

2. Censorship and Academic Suppression

- Western universities, funded by Zionist interests, actively suppress research that challenges biblical archaeology.
- Any scholar who questions these fabrications risks losing funding, tenure, and professional standing.

3. Global Zionist Control Over Historical Narratives

- Israeli-backed organizations influence UNESCO, historical societies, and international museums to promote Zionist interpretations of history.
- Hollywood and mainstream media amplify these fabrications, turning them into unquestioned “facts.”

This is not an accident. This is a war on truth itself.

Biblical Archaeology is a Colonial Fraud—And It’s Time to Destroy the Lies

The so-called “City of David” excavations and their fake biblical counterparts are not archaeology—they are state-sponsored crimes against history.

Zionist biblical archaeology exists to create a false past, justify colonial theft, and erase entire civilizations. Until these lies are exposed, Israel will continue to weaponize history to destroy Palestine.

The world must demand:

1. An end to Zionist-funded archaeological fraud.
2. International recognition of Palestinian heritage, which has been systematically erased.

truth will outlive every bulldozer, every settler, and every fraud they fabricate.

It is time to bury these biblical lies forever.

The Forgotten Histories: What's Being Suppressed?

The Zionist rewriting of history does not just involve inventing a biblical past—it also requires the erasure of civilizations that actually did exist. While Canaanites, Philistines, and pre-Islamic Arabs left behind a wealth of evidence proving their deep roots in the region, Israeli-controlled archaeology has systematically downplayed, buried, or outright destroyed these histories.

The goal? To fabricate the illusion that ancient Palestine was always Jewish, erasing the legitimacy of Palestinian and Arab claims to the land.

The Bible depicts the Canaanites as a primitive, immoral race that had to be wiped out by the Israelites in a God-ordained conquest. This story serves a clear colonial function—to justify land seizure through divine mandate. But the actual historical and archaeological record tells a different story:

- Canaanites were the first urban builders of Jerusalem—long before the supposed arrival of the Israelites. Excavations show that by 2500 BCE, Jerusalem was a Canaanite stronghold with sophisticated water systems, temples, and trade networks.
- The so-called "Israelite conquest" of Canaan never happened. Archaeological digs in sites like Megiddo and Jericho confirm that the destruction layers do not match the biblical narrative.
- The Canaanite culture did not disappear—it evolved. Many of the people the Bible calls "Israelites" were actually just Canaanites who adopted new customs over time.

By erasing the Canaanites, Zionist historians attempt to wipe away the non-Jewish origins of ancient Palestine and paint the land as an empty territory awaiting Jewish rule.

The Philistines: An Advanced Civilization, Not Biblical Villains

The Bible portrays the Philistines as barbaric enemies of Israel, an unworthy and violent race destined for destruction. But archaeology reveals a completely different truth:

- The Philistines were a highly advanced, seafaring people who arrived in the region around 1200 BCE. They established well-planned cities, such as Ashkelon, Ashdod, and Gaza, which boasted complex economies, vibrant trade routes, and sophisticated art and architecture.
- Philistine culture was more advanced than early Israelite settlements. They introduced new technologies, pottery styles, and weaponry that influenced the entire region.

By demonizing the Philistines as uncivilized and immoral, the biblical narrative serves the same colonial function as the Canaanite conquest myth—it justifies Israelite expansion at their expense. And today, this logic is mirrored in Israel's treatment of modern Gaza.

The descendants of the Philistines—the people of Gaza—are still demonized, still under siege, and still treated as obstacles to Jewish expansion. The war against the Philistines never ended—it just became a modern military campaign.

Pre-Islamic Arab Civilizations: The Erased Heritage of Palestine

One of the most damaging Zionist historical manipulations is the erasure of pre-Islamic Arab history in Palestine. The goal is to perpetuate the myth that Arabs "arrived later" and have no legitimate claim to the land. In reality, Arabs have been in Palestine for thousands of years.

Evidence of Pre-Islamic Arab Presence in Palestine:

- Ancient Arabic inscriptions dating back at least 2,000 years have been found across Palestine, confirming a deep-rooted Arab presence.
- Arab tribes such as the Nabataeans thrived in Palestine long before Islam, building cities like Petra and controlling trade routes that linked the region to Arabia and the Levant.
- The Byzantine-era Arab Christians of Palestine are documented in historical records, yet their presence is completely ignored in Zionist archaeology.
- Arabic names for cities and landmarks predate modern Hebrew names, yet Israel continues a policy of renaming everything in an effort to erase Arab historical continuity.

By suppressing this history, Israel attempts to falsely frame Arabs as "outsiders" while portraying Jews as the original and rightful inheritors of the land.

The Political Purpose of Historical Erasure

Why These Histories Are Suppressed

- To delegitimize Palestinian claims to the land. If Palestine was "always Jewish," then modern Palestinians can be dismissed as recent invaders.
- To manufacture the illusion of Jewish continuity. The idea that Jews have an "unbroken link" to the land collapses if the reality of Canaanite, Philistine, and Arab civilizations is acknowledged.
- To justify ethnic cleansing. By portraying Palestinians as historical trespassers, Israel rationalizes settlement expansion and the destruction of Palestinian homes.

Restoring the Suppressed Histories of Palestine

The past belongs to no single group, and it certainly does not belong to the Zionist movement. The true history of Palestine is a history of many peoples, cultures, and civilizations, not just biblical mythology repackaged for modern political purposes.

To undo this historical fraud, we must:

1. Expose the erasure of Canaanite, Philistine, and Arab histories and demand their rightful place in historical discourse.
2. Hold Zionist archaeologists accountable for their politically motivated distortions.
3. Protect Palestinian heritage from Israeli destruction and manipulation.

Palestine's history did not begin with the Bible, and it will not end with Israeli bulldozers. The truth cannot be buried forever.

The Business of Biblical Lies: How Corrupt Backwoods Preachers Profit from Fake Archaeology and Christian Zionism

For over a century, fraudulent televangelists, backwoods preachers, and Zionist-funded "Christian leaders" have scammed their congregations, stolen billions, and funneled cash to Israel—all under the guise of "supporting biblical archaeology." These so-called men of God have turned American churches into cash cows for Zionist imperialism, manufacturing fake discoveries, pushing fraudulent historical narratives, and using faith as a tool of mass financial exploitation.

And the suckers? The same rural evangelical base that has been duped into believing Israel's crimes are "God's will."

The Biblical Archaeology Scam: A Zionist Money Machine

In the dirty business of Christian Zionism, fake biblical archaeology is the most profitable racket of them all. It works like this:

1. An Israeli or American "archaeologist" claims to have found evidence of a biblical site—whether it's "King David's palace," "the tomb of a

3. Televangelists and mega-church pastors begin a media blitz, demanding that Christians donate to "protect" the holy site.
4. Hundreds of millions of dollars pour in—from poor, uneducated evangelical families who believe they are "fulfilling prophecy."
5. The money is either laundered into Israeli settlement projects or pocketed by the preachers and their Zionist handlers.

Not One of These "Discoveries" Has Ever Been Confirmed as Real

- There is no archaeological proof of King David's palace.
- There is no archaeological proof of the Exodus.
- There is no archaeological proof that Solomon's Temple was as described in the Bible.

Yet, year after year, new fake discoveries are made to keep the money flowing.

These conmen know exactly what they are doing. They are selling religious fantasy to the most gullible segment of society: poorly educated, hyper-religious rural evangelicals who have been conditioned to believe that their salvation is tied to giving their money to Israel.

The Greedy Preachers Who Profit from the Scam

The biggest names in Christian Zionism are not pastors or spiritual leaders—they are salesmen, political operatives, and criminals disguised as men of faith.

1. John Hagee: The Billion-Dollar Israeli Cash Funnel

- The founder of Christians United for Israel (CUFI), a tax-free organization that exists solely to send American Christian money to Israeli settlers.
- Net worth: Over $5 million. Lavish homes, private jets, and VIP treatment in Israel while his congregants live in trailer parks.
- Claimed that the Holocaust was God's will because it led to the creation of Israel—yes, this man literally justifies genocide for biblical pro-Israel propaganda.

- Used donations to fund illegal diamond smuggling operations in Africa.
- Taught that Israel is more important than America, convincing generations of evangelicals that they should put a foreign country before their own.

3. Mike Huckabee: The "Christian" Politician Who Pimped Out His Faith

- Former governor of Arkansas turned full-time Israeli propagandist.
- Leads guided tours to Israel where he takes evangelicals to fake biblical sites and then tells them to "donate for Israel's protection."
- Now a Fox News talking head who attacks anyone questioning Israel's crimes as an "anti-Semite."

4. Franklin Graham: The Zionist Who Hijacked His Father's Legacy

- Son of Billy Graham, but unlike his father, he sold out completely to Israel and right-wing politics.
- Runs the "Samaritan's Purse" charity, which raises hundreds of millions for "Christian aid"—but funnels millions to Israeli settlement projects instead.
- Has a private jet, a $10 million mansion, and a luxury lifestyle—while begging for more donations from working-class evangelicals.

These men—and many others—have built fortunes off fake biblical archaeology, fake prophecy, and the promise of Israel as the key to Christian salvation.

Meanwhile, their followers struggle with medical bills, failing wages, and economic hardship, but they continue to send their last dollars to these frauds, believing they are buying favor with God.

How the Scam Became a Political Machine: Zionist Money Controls the Evangelical Vote

By the time Christian Zionist televangelists had built their empires in the 1980s, they shifted their focus from just stealing money to controlling American politics.

Step 1: The Creation of the Evangelical Voting Bloc

- Preachers began telling their congregations that voting Republican was a religious duty.
- Any politician who questioned Israel was painted as an enemy of God.
- By the 1990s, evangelicals were fully weaponized as a pro-Zionist voting army.

Step 2: Christian Zionist Money Takes Over the GOP

- Republican politicians realized that whoever could secure the evangelical vote controlled the party.
- Millions of dollars in campaign funds began flowing from Zionist donors to evangelical-backed politicians.

Step 3: The Trump Phenomenon—Christian Zionists Seize Full Power

- Donald Trump recognized that Christian Zionists were the easiest voters to manipulate.
- He pretended to be a Christian, threw a few Bible verses into speeches, and promised everything evangelicals wanted: full support for Israel, the end of abortion, and Supreme Court picks who would enforce biblical law.
- Once in office, he handed over U.S. foreign policy to Israel. The embassy was moved to Jerusalem, Netanyahu was given free rein, and evangelicals cheered.
- Trump's Zionist Christian base became his most fanatical supporters, willing to storm the U.S. Capitol on his behalf while still worshipping at the feet of Israel.

This is where we are today: a Christian movement that no longer worships Jesus, but worships Zionism, power, and wealth.

The Real Cost of the Christian Zionist Scam

This isn't just about money—it's about the millions of lives destroyed by this movement.

- Palestinians are slaughtered while American Christians cheer it on.
- The U.S. pours billions into Israel while its own people suffer in poverty.
- The American right-wing has been transformed into an anti-democratic, religious-extremist cult serving Zionist interests.

And Who Pays the Price?

- The rural evangelical families who give their last dollars to millionaire televangelists.
- The U.S. taxpayer, whose money funds Israeli apartheid instead of American infrastructure.
- The Palestinian people, who are wiped out while their oppressors are glorified as God's chosen people.

Exposing the Greatest Religious Fraud in History

The Christian Zionist movement is not Christian. It is a Zionist-controlled pyramid scheme, a political war machine, and the biggest fraud ever inflicted on American religious life.

- Biblical archaeology is fake.
- These preachers are conmen.
- The American evangelical base has been hijacked to serve a foreign power.

Until this movement is exposed and destroyed, it will continue to fuel war, oppression, and corruption on a global scale.

It's time to burn the Scofield Bible, expose the televangelist frauds, and take back Christianity from the Zionist parasites who have stolen it.

The Rothschild-Scofield Operation: How Zionists Engineered Christian Zionism for Profit and Power

The rise of Christian Zionism in America was not an organic theological movement—it was a carefully planned psychological operation, financed

American Christians into foot soldiers for Israel.

This was not an accident. It was a long-term strategy designed to:

- Shift American Christianity away from its traditional theology and replace it with a Zionist-friendly reinterpretation of the Bible.
- Create an evangelical voting bloc that would permanently support Israel and oppose any policies that threatened Zionist expansion.
- Infiltrate and corrupt America's political, religious, and military institutions to ensure Zionist dominance in every key sector of power.

At the center of this deception is Cyrus Ingerson Scofield, a convicted criminal who was plucked from obscurity, handed financial backing from elite Zionist financiers, and positioned as the architect of a radical new theology—one that would transform American Christianity into an engine for Israel's political and military ambitions.

Cyrus Scofield: The Criminal Who Became Zionism's Theologian

Who Was Scofield?

Before Scofield became the most influential religious figure in American evangelicalism, he was:

- A known fraudster and financial criminal, convicted of forgery and imprisoned.
- A drifter with no formal theological education or biblical scholarship.
- A man with deep ties to elite political and financial operatives—despite his "lowly" origins.

So why was this dishonest, unqualified man chosen to reshape American Christianity?

The answer: because he was useful.

Scofield was selected, funded, and promoted not because he was a religious genius, but because he was willing to sell out Christianity to serve Zionist interests.

The Rothschild Connection: Who Paid for the Scofield Bible?

Scofield's meteoric rise from a disgraced conman to a world-famous theologian was no coincidence. It was bankrolled by Zionist power brokers, particularly those connected to the Rothschild banking empire.

- Samuel Untermeyer, a wealthy Jewish lawyer and dedicated Zionist, became Scofield's primary handler.
- Untermeyer had deep connections to European banking elites, including the Rothschild family, who were heavily invested in creating a Jewish state in Palestine.
- Through Untermeyer, Scofield was introduced to Oxford University Press, which agreed to publish his radical new "Bible"—a text that would reshape Christian thought for the next century.

Why would Jewish financiers back a Protestant preacher?

Because controlling American Christianity was the key to securing long-term political and financial support for Zionism.

By ensuring that millions of American Protestants viewed the modern Jewish state as a fulfillment of biblical prophecy, Zionist elites guaranteed

Before the Scofield Bible, American Protestants:

- Did not believe that modern Jews had a divine right to Palestine.
- Did not equate ancient biblical Israel with the modern Zionist state.
- Did not believe that Christians had an obligation to support Jewish political ambitions.

Scofield changed all of this.

His Bible commentary introduced an entirely new theology, one that placed Zionism at the center of Christian belief.

The Three Key Lies Scofield Introduced:

1. Dispensationalism: A Fabricated End-Times Doctrine

- Scofield divided history into "dispensations", each with different divine requirements.
- He manipulated scripture to claim that modern Jews were still God's "chosen people."
- This was never part of historical Christianity—it was a fabricated doctrine that gave Zionism a religious mandate.

2. Rewriting Biblical Prophecy to Justify Zionism

- Before Scofield, Christianity saw Jesus as the fulfillment of Jewish prophecy.
- Scofield reversed this, claiming that Jews still had an active role to play in biblical prophecy.
- This forced Christians to view the creation of Israel as a religious duty rather than a political event.

3. Equating Ancient Israel with Modern Zionism

- Scofield intentionally blurred the line between the ancient biblical Hebrews and modern Zionist Jews.
- Every biblical promise to ancient Israel was misapplied to the modern Israeli state.

The Impact: How Zionists Used Scofield's Bible to Take Control

Once the Scofield Bible was mass-produced and distributed across America, Zionist elites began infiltrating every major institution of power.

1. The Megachurch Takeover

- Christian Zionist megachurches were built across America, funded by Zionist billionaires.
- Only pastors who preached Scofield's theology received financial support.
- The result? A nationwide religious network completely subservient to Israeli interests.

2. The Seminaries Were Purged

- Every major Protestant seminary was infiltrated and forced to teach Scofield's Zionist interpretation of Christianity.
- Professors who rejected dispensationalism were fired, defunded, or blacklisted.
- By the 1970s, Scofield's Zionist theology was standard doctrine in nearly every evangelical institution.

3. Christian Media Became a Zionist Propaganda Machine

- Christian TV networks like TBN, CBN, and Daystar were funded by Zionist billionaires.
- Every major televangelist—from John Hagee to Pat Robertson—was required to preach unwavering support for Israel.
- Any pastor who questioned Zionism was silenced.

The Final Phase: Zionist Takeover of the U.S. Military and Intelligence Establishment

With Christian Zionism fully embedded into American religious life, the next step was militarization.

- The Chaplain Corps was infiltrated, ensuring that every branch of the military was indoctrinated with pro-Israel theology.
- The service academies (West Point, Annapolis, Air Force Academy) were flooded with Zionist-approved chaplains who trained future military leaders in Christian Zionist war doctrine.
- The Army Intelligence School was infiltrated by a Zionist-allied occult network, operating under the Temple of Set, which ran child sex trafficking networks that extended from backwoods America to the highest levels of the U.S. government.

This was not just a religious movement—it was a total infiltration of American power structures.

The Scofield Bible Was a Zionist Psychological Weapon

The Rothschild-Scofield operation was the most successful religious takeover in modern history.

total Zionist control over U.S. policy.

This was never about faith—it was about power, money, and war.

Until Americans wake up and break free from this Zionist mind control, the U.S. will remain:

- A puppet of Israeli war interests.
- A nation ruled by false religious leaders and corrupt intelligence operatives.
- A financial colony of Zionist elites.

The first step to liberation?

Expose the Scofield Bible as the greatest religious fraud of the last century.

Breaking Free from Manufactured History

Biblical archaeology has never been about uncovering the truth—it has been about creating a false past to justify a brutal present. The so-called "discoveries" used to prop up Zionist expansion—the Tel Dan Stele, Masada, the Wailing Wall, and the City of David excavations—are not just distortions of history; they are tools of war.

The past has been rewritten to serve an ideology of conquest, a mythology that erases entire civilizations and replaces them with a fabricated biblical narrative that has no basis in archaeological reality. The world has been conditioned to believe in a religious fairy tale weaponized for colonialism, while real, living histories—those of Canaanites, Philistines, pre-Islamic Arabs, and modern Palestinians—are erased from existence.

The consequences of this deception are not just academic.

- Entire Palestinian communities are bulldozed, their homes destroyed in the name of "historical discovery."
- U.S. foreign policy is dictated by Zionist lies, driving endless wars and blind support for Israeli apartheid.

And who benefits?

- Israeli elites, who use these fabricated histories to justify their settler-colonial project.
- Corrupt evangelical preachers, who fill their pockets by exploiting gullible congregants and selling fake archaeological frauds.
- Zionist billionaires, who have spent a century ensuring that Western governments, media, and academia parrot the same false historical narratives.

Reclaiming Truth from the Lies

It is time to dismantle the entire fraudulent edifice of biblical archaeology and expose it for what it truly is: a manufactured history built to justify ethnic cleansing, religious extremism, and geopolitical domination.

To do so, we must:

- Reject the mythological narratives that have been imposed as historical fact.
- Restore the suppressed histories of Canaanites, Philistines, and Arab civilizations that have been buried under Zionist propaganda.
- Hold corrupt scholars, politicians, and religious leaders accountable for perpetuating these frauds.
- Expose Christian Zionism as the Zionist psy-op that it is, an anti-Christian, pro-war ideology designed to serve Israel, not faith.
- Demand that archaeology be freed from political control, ensuring that history is not weaponized as a justification for land theft and genocide.

The world is waking up. The lies are no longer unchallenged. And the day is coming when the fraud of biblical archaeology, Christian Zionism, and Zionist historical manipulation will collapse under the weight of its own deceit.

Until then, history is at war.

The question is: Which side are you on?

Territorial Self-Fashioning in Israeli Society. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2001.

2. Akenson, Donald Harman. Surpassing Wonder: The Invention of the Bible and the Talmuds. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1998.
3. Armstrong, Karen. The Bible: A Biography. New York: Grove Press, 2007.
4. Baram, Amatzia. Culture, History and Ideology in the Formation of Ba'thist Iraq, 1968–89. New York: St. Martin's Press, 1991.
5. Baruch, Yuval. Jerusalem: Archaeology in the Shadow of the Bible. Tel Aviv: Am Oved, 2013.
6. Ben-Yehuda, Nachman. Sacrificing Truth: Archaeology and the Myth of Masada. Amherst, NY: Humanity Books, 2002.
7. Bernal, Martin. Black Athena: The Afroasiatic Roots of Classical Civilization. Vol. 1. New Brunswick, NJ: Rutgers University Press, 1987.
8. Cline, Eric H. Biblical Archaeology: A Very Short Introduction. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2009.
9. Davies, Philip R. In Search of 'Ancient Israel'. Sheffield: Sheffield Academic Press, 1992.
10. Dever, William G. What Did the Biblical Writers Know and When Did They Know It? Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 2001.
11. Dever, William G. Beyond the Texts: An Archaeological Portrait of Ancient Israel and Judah. Atlanta: SBL Press, 2017.
12. Finkelstein, Israel, and Neil Asher Silberman. The Bible Unearthed: Archaeology's New Vision of Ancient Israel and the Origin of Its Sacred Texts. New York: Free Press, 2001.
13. Finkelstein, Israel, and Neil Asher Silberman. David and Solomon: In Search of the Bible's Sacred Kings and the Roots of the Western Tradition. New York: Free Press, 2006.
14. Garbini, Giovanni. History and Ideology in Ancient Israel. London: SCM Press, 1988.

17. Lemche, Niels Peter. The Israelites in History and Tradition. Louisville, KY: Westminster John Knox Press, 1998.
18. Lemche, Niels Peter. Prelude to Israel's Past: Background and Beginnings of Israelite History and Identity. Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 1998.
19. Liverani, Mario. Israel's History and the History of Israel. London: Routledge, 2005.
20. McNutt, Paula. Reconstructing the Society of Ancient Israel. Louisville, KY: Westminster John Knox Press, 1999.
21. Pfoh, Emanuel. The Emergence of Israel in Ancient Palestine: Historical and Anthropological Perspectives. London: Equinox, 2009.
22. Sand, Shlomo. The Invention of the Jewish People. London: Verso, 2009.
23. Sand, Shlomo. The Invention of the Land of Israel: From Holy Land to Homeland. London: Verso, 2012.
24. Thompson, Thomas L. The Mythic Past: Biblical Archaeology and the Myth of Israel. New York: Basic Books, 1999.
25. Whitelam, Keith W. The Invention of Ancient Israel: The Silencing of Palestinian History. New York: Routledge, 1996.

Academic Articles and Chapters: 26. Baruch, Yuval. "Biblical Archaeology and Zionist Nationalism." Antiquity 84, no. 325 (2010): 325–336. 27. Bunimovitz, Shlomo, and Avraham Faust. "Building Identity: The Role of Architecture in the Formation of National Consciousness in Biblical Israel." Israel Exploration Journal 52, no. 2 (2002): 103–123. 28. Edelman, Diana. "Saul, Benjamin, and the Emergence of 'Ancient Israel'." Journal for the Study of the Old Testament 43, no. 2 (2018): 143–164. 29. Faust, Avraham. "Ethnic Complexity in the Iron Age: A View from Ancient Israel." Journal of Anthropological Archaeology 32, no. 3 (2013): 397–412. 30. Finkelstein, Israel. "The Philistine Settlements: When, Where and How Many?" Israel Exploration Journal 50, no. 1 (2000): 22–37. 31. Garfinkel, Yosef. "The Birth and Death of Biblical Archaeology." Biblical Archaeology Review 40, no. 4 (2014): 58–67. 32.

Book?" Scandinavian Journal of the Old Testament 7, no. 1 (1993): 163–193. 35. Lipschits, Oded. "Jerusalem between Two Periods of Greatness: The Size and Status of the City in the Babylonian, Persian, and Early Hellenistic Periods." Journal for the Study of the Old Testament 27, no. 2 (2003): 117–136.

News Articles and Reports: 36. Abu El-Haj, Nadia. "Politics, Archaeology, and the Creation of a Biblical Past." New York Times, August 12, 2003. 37. Ben-Yehuda, Nachman. "Masada Myth vs. Historical Reality." Haaretz, March 5, 2012. 38. Hass, Amira. "The Destruction of Palestinian Heritage in the Name of Biblical Archaeology." Haaretz, December 22, 2019. 39. Shavit, Ari. "Israel's War on Palestinian History: A Systematic Erasure." The Guardian, June 14, 2021. 40. Silberman, Neil. "Biblical Archaeology and the Quest for National Identity." Archaeology Magazine, November 15, 2017.

Additional References (Encyclopedias, Theses, and Miscellaneous) 41. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Archaeology in the Near East. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1997. 42. The Cambridge History of Judaism. Vol. 1. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1984. 43. Stager, Lawrence E. "The Impact of Modern Biblical Archaeology on Historical Study." PhD diss., Harvard University, 1979. 44. Whitelam, Keith. "The Suppression of Palestinian History in Israeli Archaeology." Paper presented at the Annual Meeting of the American Schools of Oriental Research, 2011. 45. Young, Richard A. "The Role of Myth in the Formation of Jewish Identity." MA thesis, University of Chicago, 2015.

You Might Be Interested In

Moscow Crushes Zelensky's Truce Theater, Grinds Down His Army
May 29, 2025

Israel Deployed ISIS terrorists to Europe Thru Ukraine – Why: German Source (Truth Bomb)
June 19, 2024

Peru – A River's Rights: Indigenous Kukama Women

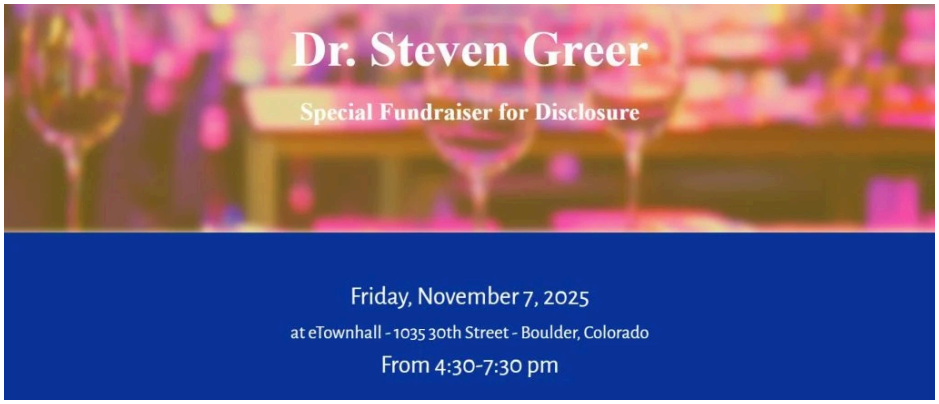
AOC Rebukes Corrupt Alito and Failed Supreme Court
April 22, 2023

like Nazi Germany

October 26, 2025

Killing of Hostages, Children – Report

February 14, 2024



BECOME A GOBAL CORRESPONDENT FOR THE INTEL DROP "CLICK HERE"

SHARE

INTEL-DROP

1

previous post

SCOTUS DECLARES WAR ON CLEAN WATER: BECAUSE WHO DOESN'T LOVE A LITTLE RAW SEWAGE IN THEIR MORNING COFFEE?

next post

TRADE WAR: TRUDEAU OUTLINES RESPONSE TO UNITED STATES TARIFFS

5

Article Rating

Subscribe Login

Join the discussion

1 COMMENT Newest

Robert E Garza Member

8 months ago

Modern propaganda may be included. The most important event that did not take place was the Jewish Holocaust. Prof. James Fetzer is one of many sources that document no more than 265,000 dead mostly from disease and towards the end of the war, malnutrition. Jews were detained in camps that did not have the actual means of performing mass death. The camps were for detention and made use of Jewish labor skills. However, there is evidence to suggest that the German people (not the Nazis, many who escaped) were the ones who suffered a genocide of over a million people. If the perpetrators and propagandists are allowed to chronicle history then we get lies as covered in this well researched article..

0 Reply